I'LL TELL GRANDMA!

WRITTEN BY JOANNA JAGIEŁŁO

ILLUSTRATED BY PATRYCJA GRZEŚKOWIAK

A girl and her grandma have lots of adventures that casually includes a dose of knowledge. Each book starts with a question for Grandma covering topics like nature, technology, art, customs, space and more. The girl comes to her grandmother with a “scientific problem” because she heard something on the radio, TV, or from a friend. Because she isn’t always convinced—she doesn’t want to believe it, or she’s certain her friend is repeating nonsense or misinformation. Almost in a complaining way—“I’LL TELL GRANDMA!”—the curious girl verifies the information with Grandma.

- Grandma is young, energetic, up-to-date, familiar with new technology, open-minded, and WISE
- She always has time for her granddaughter and is happy to explain everything
- Grandma uses “experimental” methods

SPIKEY'S winter mystery

WRITTEN BY KATARZYNA PRUSZKOWSKA-SOKALLA

ILLUSTRATED BY AGNIESZKA ANTONIEWICZ

A year has passed, and in the forest where Spikey lives, Christmas preparations are underway once again. The animals are organizing a christmas market - Christmas cards, delicious gingerbread cookies, or wonderful Christmas tree decorations. Everything is going smoothly until suddenly various items start disappearing—scissors, a book with the best recipes for holiday treats, and so on. What to do? Where have the missing items gone? Will all the friends manage to organize Christmas?

SPIKEY'S first Christmas

A Christmas story that is split in 24 episodes to give it a form of an advent calendar. Spikey is a little hedgehog who is going to have his first Christmas this year. The thing is he does not know anything about it. What should he do? How should he prepare? His forest friends come to help.

THE SANTA CLAUS BROTHERS

WRITTEN BY LESZEK TALKO

ILLUSTRATED BY ŁUKASZ SILSKI

Elf Elmo gets hired in Santa Claus Documentation Department. Elmo's task is to compile a list of children waiting for gifts from around the world and then deliver it to the appropriate Brothers (and Sisters) of Santa Claus. Each year, everyone works together in harmony toward a common goal – happy children.

However, one of the brothers is thoroughly tired of living in the shadow. Stanley finally plans to be the Santa Claus, not just some helper. Unfortunately, Elmo will have his hands full when he discovers the mess Stanley has made in the paperwork.

- Christmas story sprinkled with humour
- Big, colourful illustrations

SANTA'S BACK!

WRITTEN BY LESZEK TALKO

ILLUSTRATED BY SILVERE TRICOIRE

Santa has lost his faith in people. He works for a company that employs dozens of Santas for commercial work in shopping malls. It is there that he meets Amelka—a girl who, like him, no longer believes in the magic of Christmas. The sad story of the girl rekindles in Santa a long-forgotten light and hope.

- The book is great for independent reading by children, and also for reading with an adult,
- A Christmas story with a wonderful message,
- An alternative to classic stories about Christmas,
- Fun, colourful illustrations that complement the reading experience.

TEDDY SANTA

and the snowy glasses

WRITTEN BY MARCIN MALEC
ILLUSTRATED BY ANETA FONTNER-DOROŻYŃSKA

A funny comedy about crazy Christmas adventures!

Teddy Santa is a son of a well known toy manufacturer – Nicholas Santa. Teddy, together with his family, lives in an old house on the hill. The boy has his head in the clouds since he can remember. Everything was falling out from his hands, stepping into a muddy puddle (or, even worse, into a dog's poop!) was not a surprise for him. He was blamed (not without reason) for every small incident.

One day, Teddy finds out that his dad is the Santa Claus! For many years he delivers presents to the children from all around the world. But this year something terrible happens – right before the Christmas Eve, dad cannot see through his snowy glasses that give him his magical powers. It is Teddy who is supposed to save Christmas and deliver all the presents. How will he manage?

It's a match Anyone But You

WRITTEN BY ZANETA ZGLICZYNSKA

Clare is a photography student who signs up for a television dating show. The show's creators and the love algorithm have matched her with a similar partner. The girl leaves her old life behind for four weeks. The program stipulates that the partners will not see each other for the first seven days. They are to discover what connects them on an emotional level. After long conversations, Clare grows more attached to the stranger but she still cannot forget her classmate from the student group.

During their first meeting, Clare discovers that the stranger is Johnny, a guy from her studies, the very person Clare has been thinking about for the past few weeks. As Clare and Johnny grow closer, a date on a deserted island breaks down their barriers, leading them to fall in love with each other, despite the presence of cameras. Their romantic bliss is interrupted by the appearance of Clare's former love on the show.

YOU'LL ALWAYS BE MY DREAM

WRITTEN BY KAROLINA KLIMKIEWICZ

Nessa had always felt like she didn't quite fit into the modern world. After all, not many sixteen-year-olds avoid social media, devour old romances, and befriend a tamed raven like she does.

One winter day, Nessa finds a letter on the street. The recipient's address has blurred in the snow but the sender's name is still legible: Landon Northwode. Despite the pre-Christmas rush, she decides to send the letter back and include a few words of her own.

In his reply, Nessa learns that Landon is only slightly older than she is. How extraordinary that he sends paper letters! Thus begins their exchange of messages, and with each opened envelope, Nessa's heart beats faster. But why does it seem like Landon is hiding something from her?

It's a magical story about first love, the struggles of a teenager, discovering one's identity, and finding the courage to make life-changing decisions.

FADING

WRITTEN BY JUSTYNA LEŚNIEWICZ

Marlene, a high school girl, is shy and sensitive. At school, she is bullied and mocked. Furthermore, her mother is a perfectionist who wants Marlene to get only good marks, even in Math, which is problematic for the young girl. Tom, Marlene's older brother, is always there for her but now he has left Poland for a foreign scholarship and they only talk online.

Marlene wants to be accepted, attractive and loved. At some point, she notices that controlling her weight is the only thing she is good at. She falls into a trap of eating disorder: lies, punishing herself for eating more than her limits of calories, running obsession and sneaking out at night. Besides, there are also good things that happen – she meets Miśka with whom she becomes best friends. Then, Marlene meets Hubert who seems to be so different from her and, at the same time, so attractive. ..

- A story about having one's demons
- A bitter-sweet story about love and friendship – what a huge impact those emotions can have on our lives and how difficult it is to believe in them.
